

Energy and Resources Group Spring 2009 Colloquium Series (ER295)

March 18, 2009

Nick Hanley

Scientist and Environmental Planner
European Commission Directorate-General of the Environment
EU Environment Service

From Kyoto to Copenhagen the EU way

Nick Hanley, Scientist and Environmental planner, has worked for the EU Environment Service for the last 20 years on policy and implementation. He is currently head of the Division for Governance and Communication and spending the spring semester as the EU visiting fellow in IGS. He will outline the key elements of the EU policy package approved by the EU heads of state last December and be happy to share views on the challenges ahead.

110 Barrows Hall / 4:00 p.m.