

Job Announcement

University of Michigan

Ford School of Public Policy

Energy and Public Policy

Assistant Professor Rank

Energy and Public Policy. The Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy at the University of Michigan invites applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenure-track assistant professor position in public policy. The position will have a university year appointment. Successful candidates must demonstrate outstanding research potential; willingness to teach core and applied undergraduate, Masters and Ph.D. level courses in an interdisciplinary public policy program; ability to mentor Masters and Ph.D. students; and interest in interacting with students, faculty, and policy practitioners in an interdisciplinary professional school environment. The position is open with respect to disciplinary background. We seek applications from candidates whose research and teaching interests focus on public policy aspects of the production, distribution, consumption and availability of energy – domestic and international. Please send application materials, including a CV, writing samples, 3 letters of reference, and teaching evaluations (if available) to: Energy and Public Policy Search, Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy, 735 S. State St., University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI 48109. Review of applications will begin on October 31, 2009 and continue until a suitable candidate is identified. The University of Michigan is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply and the University is supportive of the needs of dual career couples.