

Updated - Staff Environmental Scientist Job and Exam Opportunities!

Announcing job openings and an exam opportunity for Staff Environmental Scientists! The Natural Resources Agency/CALFED Bay-Delta Science Program has open Staff Environmental Scientist jobs and is conducting a Staff Environmental Scientist (SES) examination to create a list of eligible applicants for those currently not in state service or on a state SES list. You must be on this list (or a comparable one at a different state agency) to be able to interview for these positions.

As an SES in the Science Program, you would help our team synthesize cutting-edge science and lead top researchers throughout the nation to provide input to fully inform policy makers on high priority technical topics. The information we provide is used in setting state policies on climate change, water supply, ecosystem restoration, water quality, and more.

WHO MAY APPLY:

Jobs: If you are currently an SES, reachable on a state list, or a state employee with transfer eligibility - APPLY NOW! See job duties and application details at http://www.calwater.ca.gov/calfed/HR/job\_opportunities.html

Exam: The SES exam is open to anyone that meets the minimum requirements. Submit a State application (Form STD. 678) to the California Department of Forestry and Fire Protection Exam Unit. See exam announcement details at: http://www.calwater.ca.gov/calfed/HR/state\_exam\_information.html

Applications must be postmarked no later than November 10, 2009.
